AMERICA GETS IN

Steamer Had Been Quarantined in the Orient.

Will Land Passengers at Detention Station Here—Takes Freight On. Wants 500 Tons of Coal.

The arrival of the America Maru yesterday morning was what called the members of the Board of Health together in special meeting early in the afternoon. After much discussion it was decided that the passengers, cabin and steerage, be landed at quarantine island until the period of quarantine is completed. Since it has been seventeen days since the case of plague was reported on board at Yokohama, there still remain four days of quarantine. This is in accordance with the resolution recently adopted by the Health Board making twenty-one days the period of quarantine. The freight will not be allowed to be landed at all. The America will continue right on to San Francisco as soon as she has finished coaling. As she will take on about 500 tons of coal she will not get away until about the 14th.

After reaching Yokohama the America was quarantined for six days. Four steerage passengers were landed. Two of these were afflicted with bubonic plague, one dying the following day. There have been no outbreaks of plague since the steamer left Yokohama. Several cases of fever have developed, however, among the steerage passengers.

The steamer people had the choice of either having the vessel put in quarantine here, or of going on to San Francisco with all passengers, or of landing them on quarantine island. The decision of the board of Health made the choice easy, and the latter alternative was adopted. There are over 500 passengers on board, among whom is George R. Carter, who is returning from an extended trip to Japan.

BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY.

It Goes Forward Despite Threats of Two Years Ago.

(S. F. Chronicle.)

The Oxnards, who declared two years ago that if Hawaii were annexed they would not spend another dollar on California beet sugar propositions, have been fully as active in that respect since annexation as they were before. The latest news from them is of a $750,000 investment in a Ventura beet ranch of 5000 acres, which they have added to one of 7000 acres already in hand. This ranch is to be divided into small tracts and occupied by beet-growers who will raise the product used in the Oxnards' million-dollar factory.

Evidently the sugar magnates have recovered from their scare. Not only is Hawaii in the Union and producing more sugar than ever, but we are fighting to bring the Philippines in also. Porto Rico is in the same status as Hawaii, and Cuba is likely, if not annexed, to get a reciprocity treaty. Nevertheless, the investments in beet sugar properties are piling up, and will, we think, continue to do so until the combined production of cane and beet sugar supplies the local demand and keeps pace with its increase.

That will take some time. We are now importing 4,918,905,733 pounds of sugar annually, and paying $99,066,181 for it, while the amount of our per capita consumption is steadily gaining. Adding Porto Rico, the Philippines and Cuba will by no means glut the market. Porto Rico produces 60,000 tons, the Philippines 260,000 tons and Cuba $50,000 tons, or 2,578,050,000 pounds in all. This is 2,340,225,733 pounds less than the American importations, of which, besides, it makes a part. Obviously, therefore, beet sugar production and manufacture has an ample field.

For Honolulu Boys.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 1.—Rampart is as rich, if not the richest mining district on the American side of the Alaskan boundary. With a little development it will produce over $1,000,000 this season. A rich strike has been made on Eureka creek and tributaries on the Tanana, thirty miles from Rampart, and a big stampede has taken place.

A wealth of gold has been discovered on Hoosier creek, Capt. A. J. Ballet, the famous Yale oarsman, being the lucky discoverer.

Rampart is headquarters of the Honolulu colony in the Klondike country.

Nance O'Neill

NEW YORK, July 1.—A London cable to the World says: The theatrical novelties of the past week were two special matinees. Nance O'Neill played Leah on Tuesday, with McKee Rankin and a curious company recruited from Americans in London. The critics expressed an agreeable surprise at her performance, several of them crediting her with having more intensity and emotional power than any American actress who has yet been seen here.

Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks, and to some older ones. Doane's Ointment never fails. Instant relief and permanent cure. At any chemist's, 50 cents.
